FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

In the Matter of )
 )
800 Data Base Access Tariffs ) CC Docket No. 93-129 and the 800 Service ) Management System Tariff )

PETITION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME

The Ad Hoc Telecommunications Users Committee and National Data Corporation (hereinafter the Petitioners) hereby seek an extension of time in the above-captioned proceeding to extend the date for comments on the direct cases which the Local Exchange Carriers (LECs) submitted on September 20, 1993 in this proceeding to a date thirty days after the Commission rules on several LEC petitions for waiver of the cost disclosure requirement of paragraph 29 of the Designation Order in this case.<sup>1/</sup>

In their petitions for waiver, the LECs have asked the Commission to allow them to withhold from public view certain cost information which is relevant to the reasonableness of the rates which are under investigation in this proceeding.<sup>2/</sup> Until the Commission rules on the pending petitions for waiver,

<sup>2/</sup>See Petition for Waiver of the Participating Bell Operating Companies, Cincinnati Bell and Southern New England Telephone Company, CC Docket No. 93-129 (filed Sept. 16, 1993); Contingent Petition for Waiver of US West Communications, Inc., CC Docket No. 93-129 (filed Sept. 17, 1993); Petition for Waiver of GTE Service Corporation, CC Docket No. 93-129 (filed Sept. 20, 1993).

Petitioners will not know on which cost support they should comment. Requiring Petitioners to comment on the cost support (such as it is) that has been filed by the LECs to date would waste Petitioners' resources if the Commission denies the LECs' waiver requests. It, of course, would be at least unreasonable for the Commission to require Petitioners to proceed on the assumption that the Commission will grant the LECs' requests for waiver.

The need for delay is caused entirely by the fact that the LECs (except US West) waited until September 16 and 20, 1993 to file the above-described waiver requests. The Designation Order was released July 19, 1993. The LECs should have filed their requests for waiver well before mid-September.

Additionally, the LECs will not be harmed by granting this extension of time. Their 800 Database rates are in effect. The requested extension of time will only delay the time when a the Commission orders a reduction in the currently effective 800 Database rates.

In view of the foregoing, Petitioners respectfully request that the Commission extend the date for comments on the direct cases which the LECs submitted on September 20, 1993 in the proceeding.

Respectfully submitted,
